JANUARY 2016 NEWSLETTER

If you are reading this January 2016 edition of the DVMS newsletter, it can be assumed that you have survived the Christmas and new year celebrations and that you are working on making that new year's resolution come true.

With the shed being closed over the Christmas - new year period, news items are a bit light on but let's firstly recap on some of the fun that was had at the Christmas BBQ on Dec 21st. This event was very well attended, so much so that an extra trip to Dingley Village Woolworths (our fantastic sponsor) was required to keep up the demand on the BBQ.

After the 42 degree day we had the previous weekend, it was a great relief to sit down for lunch with a nice breeze coming through the shed. With the air-condition units and fans all working overtime, we have a very pleasant room to gather in.

An elderly man was stopped by the police around 2am and was asked where he was going at that time of night. The man replied "I'm on my way to a lecture about alcohol abuse and the effects it has on the human body, as well as smoking, and staying out late". The officer then asked, "Really?.....Who's giving that lecture at this time of night"? The man replied, "That would be my wife".

Vaughan organised some "time trials" for the enthusiastic bike riders.

You can be assured that no money changes hands during this well practiced pin ball game.

This 'meeting of minds' went on for several hours and Lawrie was still holding his head at 3pm.

It was finally agreed that bike riding is really meant for the young

A REAL BUSINESS MAN

A clearly inebriated woman, stark naked, jumped into a taxi and laid down on the back seat.

The cab driver opened his eyes wide and stared at the woman. He made no attempt to start the cab.

The woman glared back at him and said, "What's wrong with you, honey? Haven't you ever seen a naked woman before"

The driver answered, "Let me tell you something lady - I wasn't staring at you like you think, that would not be proper where I come from."

The drunk woman giggled and responded, "Well, if you're not staring sweetie, what are you doing then?"

He paused a moment, then told her...."Well madam, I am looking and I am looking, and I am thinking to myself, where in the hell is this lady keeping the money to pay for this cab ride?"

Now , that's a real businessman!
